TULSA – GableGotwals attorneys are offering a free webinar from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. June 29 on provisions for access and information for limited English proficient and non-English-speaking employees.

If a company is not offering educational materials and training programs in non-English languages, the company may be exposed to a discrimination claim. Labor and employment attorneys Meagen Burrows and Stephanie Duran will cover best practices in all employment stages.

Registration information is available at www.gablelaw.com.
