

Brandon Bickle

Brandon Bickle is a Shareholder at GableGotwals, where he practices in the areas of general commercial litigation, with an emphasis on foreclosures and other debtor-creditor disputes, as well as bankruptcy law. He regularly advises clients on a variety of litigation and business matters, including contract and loan disputes, lien disputes, construction disputes, collections, workouts, and bankruptcy matters.

Brandon's recent experience includes litigation in a variety of contexts in both state and federal court, representing debtors and creditors in connection with workouts and bankruptcy cases involving several industries, including the energy sector, and representing both local and national lenders in connection with loan defaults, workouts, collateral liquidation, and collections involving a variety of businesses and collateral.

Representative Experience

- Lead counsel for chapter 11 bankruptcy debtors in the construction and retail industries in Oklahoma, in the Northern and Eastern Districts of Oklahoma.
- Creditor counsel to clients in multiple industries in chapters 7, 11, and 13 cases in all Oklahoma districts.
- Regular bankruptcy counsel to natural gas utility companies in multiple jurisdictions, involving a wide range of creditor-related issues, both in and out of bankruptcy.
- Creditor counsel to oil and gas producer and midstream clients in chapter 11 bankruptcy cases in multiple districts, including the Southern District of Texas, the District of Delaware, and the District of Wyoming.
- Creditor counsel to a coal producer in a chapter 11 case in Kentucky.
- Representation of lender clients in loan workouts, chapter 11 cases, as well as foreclosure and receivership cases.
- Complex commercial litigation experience, in and out of bankruptcy, in both Oklahoma state and federal courts, primarily involving creditor clients and collateral liquidation, but also involving a variety of business disputes.
